

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more information contact:

Dawn Caldwell

Assistant Village Manager

815-886-0279

dcaldwell@romeoville.org

April 25, 2013

Romeoville Business Recognized for Success in Exporting

Automated Design Corporation in Romeoville was recently recognized by the Small Business Administration (SBA) for their success in exporting. Representatives from the SBA and Illinois Small Business Development Centers attended a special event at the company.

Pictured are (Left to Right): Daniel Goff, deputy director, Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity, Office of Trade and Investment; Mark Petrilli, state director, Illinois Small Business Development Center; Lisa Bitsky, owner and president, ADC; Tom Bitsky, ADC; Marianne Markowitz, regional administrator, SBA; Brad Easter, business analyst, Illinois SBDC at Joliet Junior College; and Mary Ma, director of Illinois SBDC International Trade Center at Governors State University.

"The Village of Romeoville would like to congratulate Automated Design Corporation on their success in exporting. Their success epitomizes true entrepreneurial spirit...and we are proud to have them right here in our community," said Mayor John Noak.

Automated Design Corporation has been in business since 1986 and has utilized a variety of free resources available to small businesses through the SBA. Automated Design Corp. designs and manufactures custom automation equipment and industrial controls for a variety of industries. ADC is also a world leader in research and development testing for sports equipment.