Romeoville Village Board approves Retail Center for Uptown Square

At the February 5, 2014 Village Board Meeting, officials approved a new retail center for Uptown Square. The retail center will be approximately 9,000 s.f. located at the corner of Alexander and Route 53. The developer of the project will be HB Uptown, LLC.

The development by HB Uptown will be joining the successful Romeoville Athletic and Event Center which had a partial opening in January. Also, in the center will be Franconi's Grocery and Fat Ricky's Restaurant which was approved earlier this year.

"This is another piece of the project that will help transform the once blighted center into a new vibrant commercial and special event area that the residents and visitors can enjoy," said Mayor Noak.
