Community Electrical Aggregation Program Alert

It has come to our attention that a company claiming to be associated with the Village of Romeoville electrical aggregation program, has been calling residents, and going door to door attempting to convince residents to switch their supplier. The Village of Romeoville's electrical aggregation provider FirstEnergy Solutions does not call, or solicit door to door, in our community. The Village of Romeoville's contract with FirstEnergy runs through October of 2014 and is not expiring in May as some of these companies are claiming. Any changes to the Village's electrical aggregation program will come via mail with both the Village logo and the suppliers logo on the envelope.

We are urging residents to obtain the names of any company who contacts them claiming to be working with the Village and contact us immediately. As always if you have any questions about this program please contact Village Hall at 815-886-7200.
