William Ryan Homes to Build in Romeoville

The Village of Romeoville has entered into a development agreement with William Ryan Homes, Inc. to develop 167 residential lots within the former Stone Bluff subdivision. The subdivision will now be called Renwick Place. Homes up to 3,200 square feet will be built.

“This is one of the last unfinished subdivisions in our community,” said Mayor Noak. “We are very excited to have William Ryan Homes coming in,” Noak added.

Construction on model homes is anticipated to begin in the next couple of months.
